BE SUBORDINATE

In his letter to the Ephesians, St. Paul gives a beautiful treatise on the Church and how we are called to be in a relationship with one another. St. Paul says, "Brothers and sisters: Be subordinate to one another out of reverence for Christ" (Ep 5: 21). For example, St. Paul points to married couples. The wife is called to be submissive to her husband, while the husband is called to sacrifice his very life for his wife. Both are called to give over everything, to be subordinate to one another; both equally give everything to the other. Approaching everyday life with those around us in the same spirit becomes the challenge. How are we subordinate, secondary or lesser than the person next to us? Couples do it all the time in their marriage. Parents naturally put their wants aside to do for their children. Teachers are constantly humbling themselves for their students, and students are humbling themselves when obeying their teachers. Some people find it easier to be subordinate than others. The key becomes in our attitude. Do we have the attitude to be intentionally submissive to those around us? Do we have the attitude to give our very lives for the average person around us? Do we have the attitude of giving whatever it takes in a given moment to help the other person increase as you decrease? In a world where people can be polarized in their approach toward politics, religion, gender and/or culture, we are reminded that each of us help make up the body of Christ. And in this body, there are some rules of engagement. We must "be subordinate to one another out of reverence for Christ" (Ep 5:21).

To follow Jesus is not an easy decision to take, and one that can only be done through the grace bestowed on us through Jesus. When the crowds dispersed in the Gospel, the Apostles did not leave but instead proclaimed Jesus as the Lord who has the words of eternal life, a proclamation that came from trust and knowledge of Jesus the person. As we make the decision to be stewards, let us get to know Christ more intimately especially through the Word of God, which gives us life.

Week of August 25, 2024

The First Multiplication | Bread of Life | Episode 1

In this first episode of Bread of Life, Dr. Tim Gray shares insights from Sacred Scripture and dives into the Gospel of Mark's account of the first multiplication of loaves. Dr. Gray shows how Christ's eucharistic teaching is grounded in the Old Testament, provides hope for the reconstitution of Israel, and anticipates the Last Supper.

Confessions of Augustine: Who Is St. Augustine? (Part 1 of 6)

Join these two patristic scholars as they help viewers learn how to read this classic text and draw from the riches of the spiritual life of the doctor of the Church, Saint Augustine.
